Nowadays, everyone has to wear a mask because there has been Covid-19 all around us. One day, Ken felt that it was very boring to see everyone's mask in similar design, style and colour. So he wanted to invent a mask with a special outlook.

All in a sudden, he got an idea. He decided to make a mask that looked like he didn't wear any after he put it on. The mask would be same looking as his face! A few minutes later, that particular mask was made. The mask looked so funny. Ken was over the moon.

The next day, Ken put on that special mask and entered a supermarket. Ken was very proud of his new invention and kept smiling with the customers there. Suddenly, a staff said to Ken, 'Sir, please wear your mask.' 'I have already put on my mask,' Ken replied while he pointed it to the staff. Everyone in the supermarket all stayed away from Ken because they thought that Ken didn't wear a mask. Ken told himself cheerfully, 'It is an amazing and successful invention. I am a genius. Everyone respects me now!'
