

C.C.C. Kei Faat Primary School (Yau Tong)
60th Anniversary Writing Competition (P.5-P.6)

Name: Ynez Lam Chun Yee (11)

Class: P. 6C

Date: 21st March, 2024

Topic: A letter to God to share the happiest moment in your school life

Below are the writings from different students:

 Linda	Dear God, How are you? I am so happy to write you this letter to share my happiest moment in school. Within five years of study, the ^{most} best moment I had was last year's Christmas party. I will never forget that day because it was my first Christmas party after three years of the Covid-19 pandemic. ..... Love, Linda
 Joe	Dear God, There were so many wonderful moments I had in my school life. The happiest one I would like to share with you was when I got my first one hundred marks in my Maths examination in Primary Four. I remember Yours, Joe

Write the letter in at least 90 words. The following questions may help you.

Guided questions

1. What was the happiest moment you had in your school life?
2. When was it? (Sports Day? School Picnic? Games Day? Christmas party? Singing competition? Chinese Cultural Day? Graduation camp? Field trip?...)
3. What happened? Did you get a prize, improve your abilities, solve a problem, overcome a challenge, accomplish a difficult task, learn something important, help someone ...?
4. Was it meaningful to you and/or the people around you? Why?
5. How did you feel? What positive emotions did you have?

A letter to God to share the happiest moment in your school life

Dear God,

How are you? There were so many delightful moments had in my fruitful school life. I am so glad to write you this letter to share my happiest moments in school. Within six years of study, the most meaningful moment I had was last January's Graduation camp.

We went to Po Leung Kuk Pak Tam Chung Holiday Camp by school bus. We were divided into groups and play some games. Our group won most of them. When we were playing blocks building game, we ran rings round other groups. We need to run to the centre of the playground one by one and built the blocks. Building the tallest blocks means win. When it's my turn, I was very nervous and knocked down the blocks. I felt so sorry and afraid of the anger of my groupmates.

Lastly, I was crying in the corner. At that time, Kelly came to ^{we} me. She was one of the winners of the game. She shared her ice-cream ^{with me}. She said, "It is not your fault. Don't worry!" My groupmates also came to me and said, "It's just a game. You have tried your best. Don't be sad!" They calmed me down and I stopped crying.

They were so nice and friendly. Although I didn't get a prize, I was not unhappy anymore. I will remember my supportive groupmates and friends. It's so fantastic to have them.

Thank you for giving me such a wonderful school!

Love,
Yhep